

THE NAVIGATOR'S TOUCH

by Julia Ember

"In this haunting novel set in a world inspired by Norse mythology, Ember refreshingly places a number of queer and gender nonbinary characters at the forefront, all rendered with nuanced care." — KIRKUS REVIEWS

"[An] exciting and violent quest with mostly female leads and fascinating mythology ... VERDICT This companion novel elevates the captivating stories of mermaid Ersel and warrior-captain Ragna introduced in The Seafarer's Kiss. Fans of mythology adventures will embrace this high-action, emotional, and gory tale." — SCHOOL LIBRARY JOURNAL

I was going to savor my revenge.

 @interludepress

 @interludepress

PUBLICITY AND MARKETING

Candysse Miller, Director.

cmiller@interludepress.com

SUBSIDIARY RIGHTS

contact@interludepress.com

SUMMARY

After invaders destroyed her village, murdered her family, and took her prisoner, shield-maiden Ragna is hungry for revenge.

Guided by the magical maps on her skin, battling storms and mutiny, Ragna sets sail across the Northern Sea. She petitions the Jarl in Skjordal for aid, but despite Ragna's rank and fighting ability, the Jarl sees only a young girl, too inexperienced to lead, unworthy of help. To prove herself to the Jarl and win her crew's respect, Ragna undertakes a dangerous expedition.

But when forced to decide between her own freedom and the fate of her crew, what will she sacrifice to save what's left of her home?

META DATA

PUBLICATION DATE: September 13, 2018.

ISBN (Paperback): 978-1945053702

CATEGORIES: YA FICTION, LGBTQ ROMANCE, RETELLINGS, DARK FANTASY

PAGES: 256 (65,600 words)

PUBLISHER: Duet Books, an imprint of Interlude Press.

PRICE: $16.99 Trade Paperback

COVER DESIGNER: CB Messer